When the program is started the terminal gives you a few choices, like show or search for products. And then of course Login or Register choices. If you do not already have an account you must register to be able to order etc. After Login for your user or admin account a lot more choices are available to do.

When logged in and choosing what to do the terminal will tell you what type of input is expected. An example for user when wanting to confirm their shopping cart to place the order the terminal will say something similar to "1. Confirm order, 2. Cancel order, 3. Continue shopping".
